

A Pastor can be known and still unsupported.

People may recognize the role and appreciate the ministry without seeing what it is costing the person carrying it.

KNOWN WELL

80%

say someone outside home and church knows them well.

SUPPORTED OFTEN

receive spiritual support from peers or a mentor several times a month or more.

LONELY OR ISOLATED

65%

report feeling lonely or isolated at least sometimes.

These are separate survey questions, not one group moving through three stages.

People can know a Pastor well and still miss when the Pastor needs help.

A Pastor may have people nearby without having a safe place to speak honestly or share the weight.

JESUS IN GETHSEMANE

Jesus named His sorrow, brought Peter, James and John closer, and asked them to keep watch. They fell asleep—but His willingness to ask was not weakness.

MARK 14:32-37

Who knows the soul beneath your role?

Who is close enough to see both the fruit and the cost—and present enough to help carry the weight?

Begin with one safe, honest conversation.

You do not have to carry this alone or wait for a crisis to ask for support.
